LONG MOST PROMINENT CITIZEN OF PLAINFIELD.

The Late Judge Waldo Tillinghast Had Held Many Positions of Trust.

Judge Waldo Tillinghast, whose unexpected death in his 83rd year occurred on Wednesday morning at his home in Plainfield, had for many years been one of the town's best known and highly respected citizens.

For 23 years he was past master and for a similar period of time was chairman of the board of education as judge of the town court. He was interested in religious and educational matters, serving several years as chairman of the board of education and for 41 years being a member of the board. Since April 1850, he had been a member of the board of education of the town of Plainfield, where he had been church clerk at the time of his death, having held this office for 48 years. For 17 years he was superintendent of the Sunday school.

SEES NO USE FOR STATE MEDIATION BOARD
 Senator Whiton's Attitude—New Haven Labor Leader Files Charges.

Charges have been made against the Connecticut board of mediation and arbitration by Patrick F. O'Meara, trade union leader of the town of New Haven in a letter to Gov. H. C. Comb. Mr. O'Meara asks for an early hearing of the charges. He claims the board has been ineffectual in its work and has refused to investigate labor troubles when called upon to do so. The members of the board are Lucius E. Whiton of New London, Edward Broder of Hartford and Hugh C. Shal-voy of Danbury.

Senator Whiton at New London explained on Thursday that the board of mediation and arbitration is not formally organized and is not technically open to the charge of neglect of duty. It really has no power to accomplish results. It is supplied with powers by which its members can draw $5 a day each for services when services are rendered. Mr. Whiton says he was never consulted as to his appointment to the board and his own preference to resign.

Mr. Whiton said he advocated in the last legislature the repeal of the bill creating the board and he had the support of labor organizations with him in support of his measure. The board's efforts are futile and it is a waste of money to continue the board in existence.

OBITUARY.
 James M. Dowling.
 James M. Dowling, 75 years of age, died at the home of his son, Patrick J. Dowling, No. 265 Yantic street, Thursday morning. Mr. Dowling was in poor health for some time past.

Mr. Dowling passed most of his long life in Norwich and for years was employed at his trade as a painter. On Sept. 19, 1862, in this city, he was united in marriage with Mary O'Neil, who survives him. Mr. Dowling was the father of St. Patrick's parish and was well known to many of the older Catholic residents of the city. Besides his wife he leaves three children, Mrs. William McCabe, Patrick J. Dowling of this city, and Mrs. Patrick Hinchey of New York city. There are also two sisters, Mrs. John E. Drohan and Miss Ellen T. Dowling, both of Norwich.

Mr. Dowling's kindly and sympathetic manner and genial nature won him many true friends.

HOSPITAL WORK HIGHLY IMPORTANT

Dr. Yamie Kin, Chinese Woman Doctor, Tells Board of Lady Visitors at Backus Hospital—Gives Instructive Description of Conditions Met in Medical Work in Her Own Country—Hard to Get People Accustomed to Foreign Ideas.

Of nurses' schools have sprung up in China. The medical work being carried on is one of the greatest testimony to the power in the grade of Christianity that there is in the world. It has been one of the greatest proofs of the power of Christianity. The missionary instructors are doing a great work, but we should welcome the other aids that come to take the medical part of the work out of their hands, feel the medical practitioner should live according to his or her conscience.

It was surprising to see the Christian hospitals in China, the work has been successful and they have many large clinics, in some places. In other places, there have only been a few clinics. There is trouble somewhere, said Dr. Kin and she feels that they ought to have a lady visitors' board to investigate the cause.

Hospital Cost Large in China. The drugs and medicines are purchased in other countries and so it costs more to run a hospital in China than over here in this country. We feel very grateful that the Rockefeller foundation is to take up medical work in China, said the speaker. The influence of young men who have returned home to China from foreign colleges is great. All these influences are at work leaving this great mass of people and you would be surprised to see how rapidly this great mass is being leavened.

All Want Education. One of the greatest results is the desire for education in general. Education has been merely the stepping-stone for political office. Now it is not so. It is education for itself, not only for the men but for the women as well. It is really a fact that the Chinese woman is such a suppressed woman; she is merely bound by her own ignorance. If a woman wants to do a thing in China she is just as free to do it there as anywhere else.

Flood of Patent Medicines. In China, now, we are flooded by patent medicines. They come to us by the ton. They are so much advertised that it is no wonder the Chinese are grasping them. This influx of medicine has greatly helped the Chinese to give up the use of opium, but at the same time it is introducing morphine. Morphine is being brought into the country under different forms of patent medicines.

In concluding Dr. Kin said that it might be asked, why do the Chinese still cling to their own form of medicine. That, she said, I attribute to their conservatism and to the fact that in a very few places only has western medicine been introduced by practice in this country. There is one very great encouragement, the people are reaching out for new things, they are learning the benefits of foreign medicine. Whenever you are asked to aid in this work I beg you to remember that hospitals and houses are one of the great needs of China. The hospital work is one of the greatest aids you can render a people who are suffering as we are.

At the close of her address Dr. Kin was warmly applauded by the large gathering and before the meeting an opportunity was afforded all to meet her personally.

A collection that was taken up is to be used for the provision of Christmas gifts for the patients at the Backus hospital.

The Ladies' Advisory board of the hospital under whose auspices the meeting was held is composed of Mrs. Charles L. Hubbard, chairman, Mrs. H. H. Osgood, Mrs. John C. Averill, and Mrs. James L. Case.

NORWICH T. A. B. MEN MADE CLEAN SWEEP

In Series of Games With Total Abstinence Men from New London.

St. Mary's T. A. and B. society of this city and St. Mary's society of New London have been playing a series of games here together on Thursday night at the T. A. B. building, when a series of games was played between the two organizations. Although the results were disastrous for the New London visitors, they declared they had a fine time and they promised to even the score in the next series of games. The players were Charles McGibney, Michael McCarthy, John McCrohan, John Donohue, John Wozniak and Christopher Barry for Norwich, and Austin Ruddy, John Sullivan, Timothy Ahearn, John Connors, F. E. G. Douglass and Patrick Harkin for New London.

At pitch, the Norwich players, who were Leo Clish, Cornelius Faivey and Patrick Kane, won by the score of 10 to 4 from the New London men, who were John Kestler, T. J. Sullivan and M. V. Fitzgerald.

In pool, the Norwich players took all the games played. The following were the scores: Daniel Driscoll 50 vs. James Dewire 27; Herbert Riley 50 vs. Thomas Guinan 17; Daniel Driscoll 50 vs. Thomas Guinan 35; and Herbert Riley 50 vs. James Dewire 30.

After the play, there was a short period of informal speaking in which William H. McGibney, president and remarks were made by Austin Ruddy, F. E. G. Douglass and Morris Fitzgerald of New London, John Crawford and Felix Callahan of this city.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.
 The last of the series of noon meetings will be held this (Friday) noon at the Y. M. C. A. room from 12 to 12:30 o'clock, with General Secretary Edwin Hill as leader. These meetings were arranged in accordance with the annual custom in November to observe a week of prayer for the young men of the world. On Thursday A. A. Brown was the leader and he gave a brief and helpful talk on Pray.

All men who are interested are welcome to attend the closing meeting at noon today.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

IF FEVERISH, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED, GIVE FRUIT LAXATIVE AT ONCE

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile, and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters all over the land, and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

KNOCKED BRIDGE SLABS INTO THE BROOK.
 Auto Driven By the Late John J. Kelly Moved 3,500 Pound Stones.

Coroner Stephen H. Davis of Middlesex county held an inquest on Wednesday on the death of J. J. Kelly of Hartford and a native of this city, who was killed Sunday afternoon in an automobile accident at the bridge near Siam dock, Gildersleeve.

According to the story of City Engineer Ralph M. Wilcox, the car which Kelly was driving must have been traveling about fifty miles an hour, as several of the stone slabs on the right-hand side of the bridge were knocked over into the brook which passes under the bridge at this point. These slabs weigh about 3,500 pounds each and are eight feet long, thirty inches high and twelve inches thick. The impact of the blow from the car knocked them over and caused the car to swerve to the left and turn over, the force of the blow striking Mr. Kelly on the head and causing almost instant death.

Stephen Clonan of No. 18 Ely street, Hartford, who was the other occupant of the car, which was used as a test car for the Hartford Rubber Works, thought that they were traveling about twenty miles an hour, although he did not notice what speed the car was traveling before they struck the abutment. Clonan did not remember anything for several minutes after the car struck the bridge, but upon regaining consciousness discovered the overturned automobile with Kelly's body beneath it. Witness said that Kelly was a sober man and that the accident occurred about 2:45 p. m. Clonan, who was uninjured by the accident, was thrown about thirty feet forward.

Drs. Joseph W. Walsh and C. A. Sears of Portland, were called, told the condition the body was in, the neck being broken and the face disfigured. The coroner will make his finding known, it is expected in a few days.

FUNERALS.
 John W. Kelly.
 The funeral of John W. Kelly was held from the home of his mother, Mrs. Patrick F. Kelly, No. 292 Asylum street, on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock with a mass of requiem at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock, Rev. Myles P. Galvin officiating. Mrs. F. L. Farrell rendered the Requiem at the offertory and at the close of the mass Face to Face was rendered by Miss Katherine T. Kirby. Nearer, My God, to Thee, was rendered as the casket was borne from the church by John Shea of Hartford, Cornelius Shanahan of Hartford, William Farrell, Henry D. Buckley, John E. Keating and P. J. Connell. Burial took place in St. Mary's cemetery. Among the many present at the funeral were relatives and friends from Hartford, New Haven and other cities and a delegation from Norwich of Elks, No. 430, included in the wealth of floral forms were tributes from shopmates and a form from the Elks.

Mr. Kelly was killed in an automobile accident near Middletown Sunday and his body arrived here Monday.

REPORTED DEFEAT OF CARRANZA SOLDIERS Celebrated by Villa Troops Garrisoned at Nogales, Sonora.

Nogales, Ariz., Nov. 18.—Troops garrisoned at Nogales, Sonora, are celebrating tonight the reported defeat of Carranza soldiers by Villa troops, personal command of General Obregon at Saceda, near Del Rio.

According to reports the Villa forces, commanded by General Gomez, and 200 of Obregon's men, besides capturing two wagon trains of ammunition and supplies.

An official of the Cananea Copper company reported here today that 19 carloads of copper bullion valued at over $500,000 belonging to the company had been confiscated by Villa adherents.
